

I do not believe it is the best interest of consumers to have a few very large companies that monopolize the phone lines, DSL capabilities. We need to keep it open to the small business, the independent ISP's so we, as a consumer can have choices. I prefer to support local, small business's as that is what The United States stands for.